TO PROSECUTE STANDARD OIL CO.

Raleigh's City Attorney Prefers Charges.

Alleges That Standard Oil Company Violated Sections of Anti-Trust Law by Cutting Prices in Effort To Stamp Out Competition—Attorney General Bickett to Assist in Prosecution—Defect in Law.

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—Arrangements were made today for Attorney General T. W. Bickett to appear with City Attorney Walter Clark, Jr., tomorrow in the prosecution of the Standard Oil Company, on the charge of violating the state anti-trust law in cutting the prices of oil here gradually during the year from 1907 to 1909, it is alleged, stamp out competition by the Indian Oil Co. which has tanks here. The preliminary hearing is to be in the city police justice court which has jurisdiction in all cases up to felony.

The charges which have been largely indicated and prepared by Attorney General Bickett deny the claim of the Standard Co. that the reduction in kerosene is due to the decreased use of that oil on account of the increase in consumption of gasoline. The Indian Oil Co. began business in this state last February and the cuts have been steadily made by the Standard since that time in violation, so the prosecution claims, of sections (b), (c) and (d) of the state anti-trust law. City Attorney Clark claims that there is a glaring defect in the state law in that there is no provision made in the act for any expenses that the solicitor, or in this case, the city attorney, may be reimbursed for any expense he may be at in working up his case against the corporation or for any legal assistance to be furnished by the governor.

The chapter on miscellaneous factories in North Carolina designed to present a resume of labor and trades conditions in the state as to these classes of manufacturing, cotton mills and furniture factories not being included, for the forthcoming annual report of Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman is just given out and makes an interesting showing. There are 672 factories included in the report. However, various kinds of information that was called for by the commissioner are omitted from one and another of the reports from individual factories. The following are some of the more important features of the summary of reports:

Aggregate capital reported by 561 factories is $50,833,399; estimated value of plants with 553 plants included is $20,438,731; power used (655 factories reporting) 419 steam; 110 electric; 27 water; 15 hand; gasoline 22; steam and electric, 27; steam and water, 4; electric and gas, 1; gas, 4; steam, water and electrical, 1; electric and hand, 5; water and gas, 1; not reporting 16. The whole number reporting, except those using hand power show 109,207 horse power in use. While 416 factories reporting show 96,209 persons dependent on them for a livelihood. Average working day 10 hours and 72 minutes. Increased wages reported in 36 per cent of the factories while 56 7-10 per cent report no change. There are 563 factories reporting 34,107 persons employed, 28,632 being males and 1,380 being children. As to wages the highest average is $2.48 for men and $1.41 for women and the lowest 99 cents for men and 71 cents for women. There is improvement in financial condition of employees reported from 44 per cent of the factories with "no improvement" reported from 32 4-10 per cent. Of the adults 85 per cent can read and write and 88 per cent of the children. There is improvement in general prosperity reported as to efficiency of labor in 43 8-10 per cent of the factories and 29 per cent reporting "no improvement." Labor is reported scarce in 13 1-10 per cent of the factories. Union labor is employed in 7 9-10 per cent of the factories and 75 7-10 per cent report union labor not employed with 15 9-10 per cent of the factories not answering this question.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weatherly announce the engagement of their daughter, Corvive May, to Mr. Thomas Whitehead Tate, the wedding to take place on Dec. 27.

MRS. EMMA YEARBY DIES SUDDENLY

While on Visit to Her Sister, Mrs. W. H. Stone, Sr., Passes Peacefully Away—Death Caused by Fainting Spell Which Followed Receipt of Telegram Announcing Death of Nephew—Funeral in Durham.

Mrs. Emma A. Yearby died suddenly last night at 10:45 o'clock at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Stone, Sr., 2 Oak Court. She was the widow of the late William Yearby, of Raleigh, and was 64 years of age.

Mrs. Yearby's death was due to fainting spell which was caused by the receipt of a telegram from Durham announcing the sudden death of Mr. Thomas Woods Robbins, a nephew, to whom she was very much attached. Her death comes as a great shock to her many friends in this and other cities in the state for since coming to this city to visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stone, Sr., she had been in her usual health and prior to the receipt of the sad message from Durham was in the best of spirits. She was an aunt of Mr. W. H. Stone, Jr., of Ellis, Stone & Co., and of Mr. W. F. E. Stone, of Durham.

Mrs. Yearby was a woman possessing those Christian qualities that won the love and esteem of all with whom she came in contact. Her life was one of usefulness and her works as well as her face will be missed by many who were recipients of her kindness and thoughtfulness.

The remains will be taken to Durham on the 9:40 train this morning by special request of Mr. W. F. Ellis. The remains will be interred in the Durham cemetery beside those of Mr. Robbins, the funerals being held at the same hour this afternoon.

Mr. Robbins' death followed an operation for appendicitis, having suffered a severe attack. His death comes as a shock to friends in Durham and elsewhere. He was 22 years of age.

BOY IN LOCKUP; FATHER THOUGHT HE WAS LOST.

Small Negro Boy Takes Box of Shells and Is Arrested For Larceny.

Yesterday afternoon Melvin McCollum, a small negro boy, entered the store of the Odell Hardware Company and soon thereafter was seen sneaking out with a box of shells under his coat. He was caught by a clerk and Officer Hepler, who was passing, was called in. He was carried to the calaboose to await a hearing this morning.

Last night the boy's father called at the police station and stated that his boy was lost; that he had sent him to school yesterday morning and he had not returned home at that hour. He gave the officers a description of the missing lad and it was found that he was none other than Melvin McCollum, who at that time was in the lock-up charged with larceny. While he regretted the fact that the boy had committed a crime McCollum seemed relieved to learn just where he was at. He decided that it would be best to allow him to stay in the calaboose over night as the imprisonment, together with the whipping that he will receive this morning, will make him reflect seriously before taking anything else that does not belong to him.

COFFEE SHOOT UP.

Advance of Seven Cents a Pound in Last Few Weeks.

Living is getting higher instead of lower. As was mentioned yesterday, the reputed fall in the price of meats has been felt but little here. And now comes the news that coffee has gone up. A grocer said yesterday that standard grades of coffee had only recently gone up seven cents a pound. In the last few days it shot up 2 cents at a single time and there had been several previous advances. It is claimed that the consumption of coffee has overtaken and is now exceeding the production. It is expected that values will be maintained or perhaps even advanced further during the coming month.

Report From St. Leo's Hospital.

During the month of November 65 patients were received at St. Leo's hospital, there being 44 on hand at present. Fifteen were charity patients. Sixty-six patients were discharged during the month and six died. All the patients are reported as doing well.

STATE BOARD OF ELECTIONS MEET.

Name Those Who Will Canvass Returns.

The Returns of November Election Will Be Canvassed Today—Federal Court Damage Suit Compromised—Believed Editor Dowd Will Be Named As Speaker In House of Representatives—Anniversary of Capital Club.

Raleigh, Nov. 30.—The returns of the November elections in North Carolina will be canvassed tomorrow by the state board of elections, or rather the canvassing board chosen by the board of elections which met here this afternoon and named the canvassers who are Chairman Wilson G. Lamb, J. D. Elliott, J. C. Clifford, Democrats, and Clarence Call, Republican.

A suit pending in the Federal court in which O. W. Williams, of Wayne county, was suing the Atlantic Coast Line for injuries sustained in being struck by a backing train at Florence, S. C., while the plaintiff was in the service of the railroad company, has been compromised for $4,500, a judgment to this effect being just signed in the Federal court by Judge Connor.

The impression is growing here that Editor W. C. Dowd, of the Charlotte News, will win out in the contest for the speakership of the House in the approaching session of the Legislature. This impression is gaining ground in the absence of any definite statement from Hon. R. A. Doughton, of Alleghany, that he is really in the race for the speakership. It is believed that he is about the only man who could really endanger Mr. Dowd's chances for the speakership. And he supported him in the contest two years ago when ex-Judge A. W. Graham won out. It is said that Mr. Doughton has not really said any time that he is a candidate for the speakership this time and many believe that when it comes to the actual election of the speaker that Mr. Doughton's support will be again found to be with Mr. Dowd. The fact is that well informed politicians here who are working for Mr. Dowd say that he already has enough votes pledged to him to assure his election.

Will Johns is in jail at Bessemer City being held for the South Carolina authorities to answer the charge of bigamy. And Governor Kitchin has just honored a requisition for his extradition to that state. His trial is to be in Union county.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the Capital Club of this city is to be elaborately celebrated on Thursday evening, December 8 with a reception that promises to be one of the most brilliant the club has ever given. Mr. H. E. Litchford is the president of the club.

The Edenton Street Methodist church, Raleigh's principal Methodist Episcopal congregation, sends an exceptionally creditable report to the annual conference this time. It shows over $14,000 raised for general purposes and a $25,000 Sunday school building well night completed. There have been forty additions to the church, just half of them by baptism.

Central Methodist church also sends a very creditable report with forty five additions and something like $4,000 in collections. This church also reports plans about perfected for extensive improvements including enlarged auditorium, fine new pipe organ and several handsome memorial windows.

Real Estate Deal.

Messrs. Walter Blair and W. A. Watson have purchased the tract of land on the High Point road, known as the Richardson place. It will be remembered that J. B. Cobb, of New York, recently purchased a portion of this property adjoining his lodge. Messrs. Blair and Watson have purchased the remainder of the tract. This property is quite valuable.

Bertha Wise Improving.

The condition of Bertha Wise, the negro woman who was seriously wounded Tuesday morning by Ferd Gilmer, continues to improve. It was at first thought the wound would prove fatal, but unless complications arise she has a good chance for recovery. Gilmer is being held without bail pending her recovery.

SHEEHAN WILL SUCCEED DEPEW

Tammany Names Parker's Partner.

Once Boss of Buffalo and Bitter Enemy of Cleveland Announced As Successor of Chauncey M. Depew In United States Senate—A Democrat of Tammany—Hill Type—Opposed W. J. Bryan.

New York, Nov. 30.—William F. Sheehan, law partner of Alton B. Parker, is, it is announced, to be the successor to Chauncey M. Depew, as United States Senator.

This statement was made at Tammany Hall today simultaneously with the return of Charles F. Murphy from his vacation, which has continued since a few days after election.

Many men say the Senatorship was discussed while Murphy played golf down South.

The managers of Sheehan's campaign for the Senatorship fought shy of publicity.

William Francis Sheehan is remembered in New York politics chiefly as the one-time Democratic boss of Erie county, the bitter enemy of Grover Cleveland, whom he knifed in Buffalo in the election of 1888; the friend and follower of David B. Hill, the lieutenant governor on the ticket with Roswell P. Flower; the foe and opponent of William J. Bryan and the man who engineered the Parker campaign for President in 1904.

In the Parker campaign Mr. Sheehan worked for the election of his law partner, but besides this, little has been heard of him since 1895, when he moved to New York city from Buffalo, where his machine had been smashed, after the disastrous defeat of Judge Maynard for governor.

Mr. Sheehan was born in Buffalo in 1859. His father and mother came from Cork, Ireland. His father was a small railroad contractor and afterward an engineer on the Erie. Mr. Sheehan and his brother John—afterward leader of Tammany Hall—had a hard boyhood. William had to sell newspapers in the streets of Buffalo. In time he graduated from the public schools and worked his way through St. Joseph's College.

Then, in 1876, he began to study law and was later admitted to the bar.

Mr. Sheehan made his first visit to Albany in 1883. He was then only 24 years old. He went to the Assembly chamber and stood for a while watching the proceedings. Presently he met the Assemblyman from his own district.

"When are you going to get through with your office?" said Mr. Sheehan.

"Next year."

"I'll be your successor."

And he made his prophecy true. From that time his life was a continuous political struggle.

His brother John had been a power in Buffalo politics until in 1881 Grover Cleveland announced that he would not be a candidate for Mayor if John C. Sheehan was a candidate on the same ticket. That made bad blood between the Sheehans and Mr. Cleveland.

By 1886 Mr. Sheehan was leader of the minority in the Assembly. He was then only 27 years old. Everybody recognized him as Mr. Hill's chosen lieutenant. Never was there a sharper tongue loosed against the Republicans in the Legislature.

In 1888, when Mr. Cleveland was a candidate for reelection and Mr. Hill was nominated for Governor, Erie county gave Harrison, the Republican candidate for President, a plurality of 2,059, while Mr. Hill carried the county by 5,039. Everyone gave the Sheehans credit for this amazing result. Mr. Cleveland's home city had repudiated him and his insult to John C. Sheehan was avenged.

Mr. Sheehan became the absolute political dictator of Buffalo. With Governor Hill at his back and with plenty of patronage at his disposal he beat his rivals and enemies to the ground. Five times he was elected to the Assembly, and the last time he was chosen as Speaker. He practically controlled legislation.

Never was a man more furiously lashed in the newspapers. He was denounced as a tyrant and a schemer. Yet he smiled out of his blue eyes and continued as suave and secretive as ever.

The young leader was a man quick to see opportunities, a ready and skillful negotiator of alliances, and, while he punished his foes without mercy, he was generous and loyal to his friends. Besides that, he had tireless industry in his favor. He studied politics as a science.

In 1891 when he was only 32 years old Mr. Sheehan was elected lieutenant governor of New York on the ticket with Roswell P. Flower. He ran 14,000 votes behind Mr. Flower and lost his own county by 372 votes.

Then came the fateful election in which Judge Maynard was defeated and Mr. Hill's power in New York was broken. And in 1894 Mr. Sheehan was overthrown in Buffalo by the "home-rule" movement. He then went to New York city and soon built up a large law practice. But he was out of politics.

There were those who insisted that Mr. Sheehan was a man devoid of serious political convictions and ready to drift with the party tide, but in 1896 he replied to his critics by refusing to support Mr. Bryan and writing a letter denouncing Populism and free silver.

From 1892 to 1895 Mr. Sheehan was Lieutenant-Governor. From 1889 to 1893 he was a member of the Democratic state committee and from 1891 to 1896 a member of the Democratic National committee.

Mr. Sheehan is interested in a number of business concerns and a member of various clubs, including the Democratic, the Manhattan, the Catholic and others.

WINSTON COUPLE PASS THROUGH

Newly Wedded People Cynosure of All Eyes At Passenger Station Last Night.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Vance, of Winston-Salem, passed through the city last night enroute to Washington on a bridal trip. They came in on the 9:15 train from Winston and left on No. 38 at 10:15 being in the city less than one hour.

However, during that period of time they were the cynosure of all eyes. Despite the fact that they did their best to divert suspicion it was an easy task to size them up as bride and groom. Newly wedded people act in a peculiar way, unintentionally of course, for their very actions in trying to appear at ease only makes them more conspicuous. "Wish we had one of those red circulars used at a wedding here recently," remarked one. The ticket agent replied that he had saved one and this was promptly begged by some funmakers. It was held in plain view of the bride and groom, the former blushing most becomingly as she read the inscription. Not satisfied with this the circular was carried into the train and posted in a conspicuous place where all passengers on the car would see it. While the circular did not give the correct destination of the newly wedded people it served the purpose admirably in every other respect.

FOREST AVENUE OFFICERS.

Elected by Church at Regular Conference Last Night.

At the regular conference of the Forest Avenue Baptist church, held last evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Church Clerk, R. A. Merritt; treasurer, J. E. Sharpe; chief usher, Dr. J. T. J. Battle; custodian, J. W. Bloxton; pianist, Miss Ivy Thomas; trustees: O. T. Leonard, Dr. J. T. J. Battle, O. J. Howard. Sunday school officers, superintendent, J. E. Alderman; first associate superintendent, J. W. Bloxton; second associate superintendent, T. W. Duncan; secretary, S. F. Johnson; treasurer, O. T. Leonard; pianist, Miss Lillie Holton.

Arrested on Two Charges.

Police Sergeant Pearce early yesterday morning locked up Charles Reece, a young white fellow, on the charges of larceny and embezzlement. Reece was left here by the Robinson shows and has been hanging around at disreputable places ever since. The other day he stole a coat suit belonging to Lil Fox, a notorious character, and she had him arrested. He was given a hearing on the charge of embezzlement yesterday morning, being acquitted of the charge. He will be given a hearing on the charge of larceny this morning.

Reception Tonight.

This evening at West Market Street Methodist church the board of stewards will give a reception to the membership and the congregation. The reception will be in the new annex entrance from Liberty Place, and will begin at eight o'clock.

EPISCOPALIANS MET LAST NIGHT

Charlotte Convocation Well Attended.

Rev. C. P. Wilcox, of Mayodon, Preached Last Night—Sessions Being Held in Holy Trinity Church—Archdeacon Osborne Presiding—Reports To Be Received This Afternoon—Sessions Will Continue Through Friday Evening.

The Charlotte Convocation of the Episcopal church convened at Holy Trinity church last evening at 8 o'clock. The last session will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The convocation is well attended, there being delegates from practically every parish in the convocation in attendance.

Archdeacon E. A. Osborne of Charlotte, is presiding over the convocation, and is the guest of Major C. M. Stedman during his stay in the city. The Rt. Rev. Joseph Blount Cheshire, of Raleigh, arrived yesterday to attend the meetings of the convocation, and is the guest of Mrs. L. J. Brandt.

The Convocation of the Episcopal church corresponds in most respects to the conference of the Methodist church, the main purposes being to discuss methods and plans of work and to hear reports from the different parishes.

Rev. C. P. Wilcox, of Mayodon, preached the opening sermon last night, using as the basis of his sermon the parable of the wedding of the king's son, from the 22d chapter of Matthew. "No business of importance was transacted at this service, it being one of devotion and praise.

The program for today is as follows:

10 a. m. Holy Communion and address by the Bishop.
11:30 a. m.—Organization and appointment of committees.
12 m.—Recess.
3:30 p. m.—Reports of Ministers and treasurers.

8 p. m.—Evening prayer and confirmation. Fifteen minute talks on the topic, "The Church's Mission to the People in This Diocese." (a) "Survey of the Field," by the Venerable E. A. Osborne. (b) "Our Opportunity," Hon. John F. Henderson.

Church members of all denominations are cordially invited to be present at the sessions.

ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED

Shifting of Trains by Station While Passengers Are Alighting a Dangerous Undertaking.

Several times recently the Southern has backed freight trains by the passenger station when the platform was crowded with people getting on and off passenger trains. Yesterday afternoon several ladies came near getting run over on account of such procedure. Train No. 22 had just pulled in and perhaps twenty people had gotten off and were hurrying toward the station. Equally as many were rushing out of the station to get on, while a large number were on hand to see their friends off. At this juncture a shifter backed a long string of cars down the southbound track between the passenger train and the station. Of course, a brakeman was on the rear tooting continuously a whistle but in the rush and hurry to get on the train men and women would dash across the track in front of the backing train, and, as mentioned above, three ladies had a narrow escape. In response to the shrieks of the brakeman's whistle and shouts from the bystanders the ladies stepped off the track in time for the edge of the caboose to miss them.

Federal Prisoners Here.

Deputy United States Marshal S. K. Karkrader yesterday brought here from Charlotte Jos. W. Napier and E. Charles Quaster, the white men to be tried next week in United States court on the charge of violating the white slave traffic laws. Maude McClellan, a witness who is to testify against the men, was also brought here and is at a boarding house in the custody of a marshal. W. P. Duke, who is charged with violating the postal laws, was also brought here to stand trial. The three men are in Guilford jail awaiting trial.

FINDS RUNAWAY WIFE HE SOUGHT IN MORGUE

Mrs. Lent Left Home After Quarrel—Hurt by Auto Before Going.

New York World.

James Lent will not have words with his wife again. The little woman left his home at No. 404 West Fifty-seventh street after a trifling difference a week ago, and last night her body was taken back home from the Morgue. Long before Lent was told of her death by a World reporter he had repented and had looked everywhere for her.

Before Lent hurried to the Morgue last night he also learned for the first time that his wife when she left him was suffering from injuries that ultimately caused her death. He had not thought that a taxicab had hurt her much when it struck her on Nov. 5, because she had not complained and had walked fifteen blocks to her own home. She had even refused to have the chauffeur prosecuted.

Even after she had left the house and found she was ill she did not return to him. Instead she went to Bellevue Hospital on Thanksgiving Day. There they decided that an operation was necessary.

Then they questioned her. Who was her husband? they asked. She had none, she said. She was a widow.

"Who are your friends?" they asked.

"I have no friends," she said.

But she did give her husband's address as that of her own, and a telegram sent to the address lay unopened in the hall when a reported went there yesterday. About the hour she was dying Lent was with a party of friends.

Friday morning Mrs. Lent was placed in a surgical ward and prepared for an operation. Even then she did not weaken and ask that her husband be sent for. Suddenly she grew weaker, and yesterday she died.

Lent said that she had not complained of pain and had worked about the house every day from Nov. 5 until the day she left. Friends had told him she had gone away to the country.

"Are you never frightened when you make a flight?"

"I had one good scare," replied the business-like aviator. "Some one told me the money they were putting up for the exhibition was counterfeit."—Washington Star.

Take Care!

Remember that when your kidneys are affected your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley's Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years." Howard Gardner.

Politeness.

"Madam may I ask you to remove your hatpin?"

"Sir, you are rude."

"Doubtless, madam, doubtless, but the discomfort of standing in a swaying car with your hatpin through the rim of my ear must be my excuse. Perhaps my ear is too large, anyhow."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Saved From Awful Death.

How an appalling calamity in his family was prevented is told by A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C. R. F. D. No. 8. "My sister had consumption," he writes, "she was very thin and pale, had no appetite and seemed to grow weaker every day, as all remedies failed, till Dr. King's New Discovery was tried, and so completely cured her, that she has not been troubled with a cough since. It's the best medicine I ever saw or heard of." For coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhage-all bronchial troubles, it has no equal. 50c. $1.00. Trial bottle free. WINSTON-SALEM AND HER CANINES

Twin-City Has Trouble With Dogs Afflicted With Hydrophobia and Winston Aldermen Pass Ordinance Similar to the Proposed by Greensboro Some Months Ago.

During the past few weeks Winston-Salem has experienced a mad dog scare similar to the one in Greensboro last year about this time. One or two canines suffering from hydrophobia have been killed in Winston and the aldermen of that town have passed an ordinance similar to the one proposed for Greensboro last Spring. Yesterday's Journal contains the ordinance, which follows:

First—"It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully allow any dog to run at large upon the streets, parks, public squares, or other public thoroughfares in the City of Winston. Any person violating the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined $10.00."

Second—"All dogs running at large upon any of the streets, parks, public squares, or other public thoroughfares of the city shall be taken up by the police and impounded. It shall be the duty of the chief of police or other policemen to notify the owner of any dog impounded whenever such owners is known to the members of the police force. Every dog impounded shall be kept for 24 hours and any owner may redeem any such impounded dog by paying to the chief of police, for the benefit of the city the sum of $2.00 and the cost of impounding. All dogs which have not been redeemed after having been held for 24 hours, shall be killed under the direction of the chief of police with as little suffering as possible."

You Must Read This if You Want the Benefit.

J. W. Greer, Greenwood, La., suffered with a severe case of lumbago. "The pains were so intense I was forced to hypodermic injections for relief. These attacks started with a pain in the small of my back which gradually became fairly paralyzing. My attention was attracted to Foley's Kidney Remedy and I am glad to say after using this wonderful medicine I am no longer bothered in any way by my old enemy lumbago." Howard Gardner.

She—"It doesn't make any difference who she is. I can read a woman like a book." He—"Backwards?"

NIGHT 1442

The Messenger Boy

By MARTHA V. MONROE

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Dick," said Mr. Scriver, cashier of the bank in which I was office boy, "I've got to intrust you with an important job. There's no one else at hand to do it. You're only sixteen years old and not very big and strong at that; but, as I said, I haven't any one else just at present. I want you to take $2,000 to Ingham."

The money was given me in bills and placed in my breast pocket. I got into the bank's buggy, and just before I drove off a revolver was handed me.

As I crossed a street I saw a man sitting in a buggy just far enough away to prevent my seeing who he was. I should not have thought anything about him had it not been that I soon heard the rattle of wheels behind me. Looking back, I saw him, recognizing him for the man I had first seen by an enormous felt hat he wore and a light brown overcoat.

Still, I thought nothing about being followed, though I noticed that he was moving faster than I. I wouldn't show any trepidation by whipping up my horse even if I had suspected him. So I jogged along at an even pace till I had traversed half the distance, when, reaching a long stretch of road through a wood, I heard the horse in the rear coming at a rapid pace.

If I had positively known that some one was coming to rob me I might have turned and opened fire. I dreaded being falsely alarmed, or, rather, I considered it best not to appear to distrust my follower. He might not be intending to attack me. He might know me to be a bank messenger, but not be sure I had money with me. All these points passed rapidly through my mind, and I still jogged on at the same gait.

When the man overhauled me I recognized him as one I had seen about town, a hard featured fellow, but I didn't know anything good or bad about him. But I knew before he spoke what he wanted, for he held a cocked revolver in his right hand. Mine was handy in my right coat pocket, but before I could get it out he could riddle me.

"You're a bank messenger," he said. "You've got money with you, and I want it."

"How do you know that?"

"I was at a telephone using a party wire and heard the bank at Ingham say they had to have $2,000 before 3 o'clock."

"I've seen you in Beverly often. You're taking a great risk in robbing me."

"Dead men tell no tales." A diabolical expression passed over his face.

"I can tell you a better way than that. Murder will out, you know. Now, suppose you take me in with you."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, you might give me a part of the funds, and I can go back and report that I've been robbed of the whole."

"Oh, I see you're on the make yourself!"

"I don't like living on $6 a week very well, seeing money about me like the leaves under those trees and not have a show for any of it."

"All right. Hand out what you've got and I'll give you a quarter of it."

"Not so fast. I've got to have proof that I've been robbed. I shall tell a fine story of how I defended myself, and to show that I put up a good fight I must have some bullet holes in my clothes."

I held up my hat and asked him to put a hole in it with his revolver. He did so. I took off my coat, and he put three more holes in it for me. Then I told him that it wouldn't do for me to go back without a wound and asked him to graze the fleshy part of my leg. When he attempted to do so I gave a spasmodic move, and he missed. I begged him to make one more trial. He made it, and I moved again.

"Hands up!" I cried, whipping my revolver from my coat pocket.

I shall never forget the expression on his face when he realized that he had emptied the six chambers of his revolver and was at my mercy. I could see by the workings of his mind through his eye that he was debating whether he would attempt to overpower me, a mere boy, despite my advantage. I made up my mind for him by firing point blank in his face. I knew I risked killing him, but I didn't mind that. He dodged, and my bullet missed him. But my shot unnerved him.

"Drive on," I said.

He realized that it was an alternative between prison and death and those the former. I supposed he had a second revolver with him and watched him very closely. But he had not. I drove him into Ingham and turned him over to the police, then took the money to the bank.

I said nothing about my adventure except at the police office, leaving Mr. Scriver to read an account of it in a newspaper. He came to a desk where I was mailing circulars with the paper in his hands. The expression on his face was a sight to behold.

"What the dickens is this, anyway?" he asked, staring at me.

"It's all true," I replied.

He was silent for a moment, then went away, returning with a check for $500 in his hand.

"You take Billings' place," he said, "at his salary."

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Doctor Cook now says that he is not sure whether he found the North Pole or not. This looks like adding insult to injury.

A Boston lawyer the other day said that he could show the railroads of America where they were losing a million dollars a day. The railroad people think they are perfect in most respects and, on the presumption that the Bostonian was bluffing, they offered to employ him at his own salary. But it seems that if anybody has been bluffing it has been the railroads, for the lawyer has notified them that without charge he will meet their representatives and show them wherein he is right. The outcome of this little controversy is awaited with interest.

The British politicians are having a regular parrot and monkey time of it. Our English cousins are understood to be conservative in all things. But they are surely not conservative in their politics. The politicians call one another names just as they do in this country. They point with pride and view with alarm with the same assiduity as here. The English may laugh at American excitability along certain lines but in politics never. Both nations are tarred with the same stick only the job is more thoroughly done in England. In this country mobs do not assault and throw ash, eggs and other missiles at politicians as was done to Winston Spencer Churchill Tuesday at Colchester.

H. C. Worthen has been appointed general superintendent of the Southern Division of the Western Union Telegraph Company. He was formerly general inspector in the office of Belvidere Brooks, general manager of the Western Union. The rise of Worthen shows what an orphan boy can do if he tries. For Worthen, born in Shelby, this State, was orphaned early, and was reared in the Oxford Orphan Asylum, where he learned telegraphy. At the age of 13 he started out for himself as a railroad operator. His rapid advancement is a credit to himself and to the institution wherein he got his start.

THE RED CROSS STAMP.

The Red Cross Society stands for suffering humanity; that is why it bears the badge of the red cross. We send most of our gifts to those who are able to return them. Perhaps that should not be—at least in too many cases. But that belongs to another subject. What we should do in the spirit of Christmas is to remember the Man who bore the cross as well as Him who gave us this particular season of rejoicing and good cheer.

It is estimated that there are in this country nearly 500,000 people in some stage of that terrible plague known as tuberculosis. It must be stamped out, and it will be. And every time you expend a penny for one of these Red Cross stamps you are contributing to a fund which will be used for the eradication of this blighting disease.

When you send your package, don't forget the Red Cross stamp.

PREACHERS AND POLITICS

While some of the papers were denouncing themselves of some criticism against those ministers who from their pulpits assail certain officials high in political preferment, the Rev. George Perryman, of Norfolk, on Sunday morning, during the course of his sermon, attacked the authorities of Tennessee for releasing the Coopers, and gave reasons not favorable to Governor Mann, why an extra session of the Virginia Legislature would not be convened for the purpose of passing a legalized primary bill.

Some preachers seem to have been born as much for a political career as for preaching the Gospel, but only small and prejudiced minds talk of preachers entering the ministry for money. Truth is, these city pastors who have the ability to call forth a double head-line on the first page, could earn a great deal more money at the bar than in the pulpit. But we rarely hear of one who forsakes the church for the law or for politics.

But should they exercise their gifts for political and governmental science in the course of their sermons and ministerial duties? As Sir Roger would say, "much might be said on both sides." It depends much upon the time, the occasion, and the purpose aimed at.

When a city or state becomes seemingly hopelessly corrupt, we usually find churchmen heading the army for reform; then it is that a voice is more powerful than the pen, but it must be the voice of one whose interests are unselfish; and the preacher is, in such a crisis, the man who generally may be recognized as one who has not "sold out" to the "interests." As for the sensational preacher who takes a peculiar delight, both in season and out, in assailing certain persons and aiding particular parties, we leave him to the intelligent government of those democratic congregations and to the bishops.

THE FABLED PHOENIX.

Legend of How the Bird Lived and Died and Lived Again.

The ancient tradition concerning the phoenix has introduced into nearly every language the habit of applying that name to whatever is singular or uncommon among its kind. According to ancient writers, the phoenix was a bird of great beauty about the size of an eagle. A shining and most beautiful crest adorned its head, its plumage contained nearly every tint of the rainbow, and its eyes sparkled like diamonds.

Only one of these birds could live at a time, but its existence covered a period of 500 or 600 years. When its life drew to a close the bird built for itself a funeral pile of wood and aromatic spices, with its wings fanned the pile into a flame and therein consumed itself. From its ashes a worm was produced, out of which another phoenix was formed, having all the vigor of youth.

The first care of the new phoenix was to solemnize its parent's obsequies. For that purpose it made a ball of myrrh, frankincense and other fragrant things. At Heliopolis, a city in lower Egypt, there was a magnificent temple dedicated to the sun. To this temple the phoenix would carry the fragrant ball and burn it on the altar of the sun as a sacrifice. The priests then examined the register and found that exactly 500 years or exactly 600 years had elapsed since that same ceremony had taken place.

Huge Potato From Canada.

Mr. H. M. Patterson, of Petty Reid Company, showed to his friends yesterday perhaps the largest Irish potato ever seen in these parts. It was sent to him by his father, Mr. James Patterson, who is now living in northwest Canada. The potato weighed two pounds and four ounces and was well-shaped. It grew in unfertilized soil.

ANSWERED BACK.

Ready Reply of a Ragged Turk to a Scot in Kilts.

During the troubles at Crete in 1897 the Seaforth highlanders were landed to help to restore order. Their advent, dressed in the familiar kilts, created a great sensation, as the natives, who themselves wear a kind of kilt, had never seen British soldiers in such a costume.

An amusing incident occurred one day when a party of Seaforths were marching through a small, wretched looking village. As usual, the inhabitants turned out to stare at the soldiers, and one of the highlanders with a view to raising a laugh among his comrades shouted out to a group of Turks, "Gae hame, ye dirty blackguards, an' scrub yersels."

Imagine his astonishment as well as that of the remainder of the highlanders when a ragged and evil looking Turk shouted back in reply to him, "Gae hame, ye dirty blackguards, an' scrub yersels!" It was afterward discovered that this Mohammedan had spent several years in London and so learned the language. — From "Anecdotes of Soldiers in Peace and War," by J. H. Settle.

SHE BOUGHT RED TIES FOR HIM, AND HE QUIT

Wife Made Him Wear Loud Suits and Peanut Hats, His Excuse For Desertion.

New York World.
His wife's rugged determination to purchase all his wearing apparel and her fondness for bright colors caused Elias Tourin to leave his home, No. 379 Norfolk street, Brooklyn. He said so yesterday in the Court of Domestic Relations.

When informed by Magistrate Dooley that he was accused of having abandoned his wife nearly two years ago Tourin did not appear the least bit repentant. "I simply couldn't stand it any longer," he said. "If I needed a new suit my wife selected it, and all I could do was to wear it. I detest 'loud' clothes, but they are the only kind she would let me have. Nearly all my ties were of a bright red color, and the more I kicked the more red ones I received. She even bought my hats. Why, sometimes she came home with one that looked like a peanut when I put it on. Still I had to wear them because she'd picked 'em out."

"Mr. Judge," broke in Mrs. Tourin, "if Elias will only come back I will let him buy his own clothes."
Tourin, however, was not inclined to effect reconciliation. He was ordered to pay his wife $3 a week. As soon as the case was disposed of he left court by a rear exit. Mrs. Tourin went down the front stairs.

MR. LYSANDER TURNER DEAD.

Succumbs to Weakness After An Operation at St. Leo's Hospital.

Mr. Lysander Turner, an aged and respected citizen of Greensboro, passed away yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock, soon after undergoing an operation at St. Leo's hospital.

He had been suffering for some time from a disease of the bladder, and when taken to the hospital yesterday morning seemed cheerful and hopeful that he would be able to withstand the effects of an operation; but gradually weakened afterward, until the end came.

Mr. Turner was born in Granville county in May, 1835. He served in the Confederate army as one of the first volunteers from his county, and received a severe wound in one of his legs while fighting at the battle of Gettysburg, which wound had always caused him more or less suffering and inconvenience. He moved to Greensboro about fifteen years ago, where he was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. L. I. Harvey and Mrs. Sam White, both of Greensboro.

The funeral will be under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and will be held today at 2:30 p. m. from West Market Methodist church, of which he was a member.

SINGERS' CONVENTION

Union Convention of Singers to Meet at Pleasant Garden Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 3 and 4.

The first annual meeting of the Singers' Convention will be held at Pleasant Garden next Saturday and Sunday, December 3 and 4.

The convention was organized by Prof. Fentris and associates, Miss Hattie Peele, of the piano department of the Pleasant Garden High School, and Prof. John R. Holt, of Greensboro.

It is expected that more than 100 of Prof. Fentris' pupils will take part in the chorus.

There is to be an address by Rev. W. F. Ashburn on "The Power of Song." Other speakers will follow.

The first session will be called at seven o'clock p. m., on Saturday, in the Methodist church, and the second session on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The annual sermon will be preached by Rev. J. F. Morgan, of Elon College, at which service there will be rendered a solo by Miss Wall and a quartet by Messrs. Harry Coble, Will Hayes, Cecil Fields, and James Wall.

The second session at 2 p. m. Sunday, will be devoted entirely to music and song.

The occasion promises to be one of much pleasure and profit. All are invited.

THE COTTON GIN.

Whitney Got the Idea From the Work of an Old Negro.

Eli Whitney, the inventor of the cotton gin, got the germ of his great idea from seeing through the interstices of a hut an old negro work a hand saw among the freshly picked cotton stored within.

The teeth of the saw tore the lint from the seed easily and quickly, and young Whitney (he was barely thirteen at the time) realized at once that a machine working a number of similar saws simultaneously would revolutionize the cotton growing industry.

He said nothing to anybody, but set to work building models and experimenting. His difficulties were enormous, for he not only had to make his own wheels, cogs, etc., but he had also first to forge his own tools and even to manufacture the paint wherewith to color his many plans and drawings. But he succeeded in the end, and, though the outbreak of war and other hindrances prevented the invention from being actually placed upon the market until many years afterward, the first complete cotton gin ever constructed was built from those very models and plans and with scarcely a single alteration.

THE THIN AND WEAK

Easy Way For Them to Get Strong and Fat.

To thin and weak Howard Gardner has a word to say. Let them use Samose, the wonderful flesh-forming food, that is now so popular, and they will soon be plump and rosy.

Samose is not an ordinary medicine; it is a flesh-forming food that is adapted to the most delicate. Its tonic effect gives strength and health so that after its use for a short time, all the flesh and fat producing elements in the food will be easily assimilated and retained by the body.

There may be one or two out of every hundred who begin the use of Samose who are not helped as they expect. In all these cases Druggist Gardner will return the money without any questions.

You certainly cannot afford to be thin and sick when good flesh and perfect health are offered on this plan.

NOTICE OF SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.

Pursuant to the terms of a certain mortgage deed executed on the 21st day of December 1909, by R. M. Ussery (unmarried) to secure the principal and interest on a certain bond therein mentioned and recorded in the office of Register of Deeds of Guilford County, North Carolina, in Book 223 Page 244 et seq., and default having been made in the payment of the aforesaid bond at maturity and the interest on the said bond as it accrued, the undersigned will, on Monday the 2nd day of January, 1911, at 12 O'clock M.

expose to sale at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in front of the court house door in the City of Greensboro, N. AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

We have occupied our present store ever since we opened business in Greensboro, and not until the last few days was it possible for us to secure a long time lease on the building so that we could expand.

Now that we have secured the store,
we feel that we can go ahead and make the necessary changes at once in order to meet the requirements of our large and growing business.

We have the utmost confidence in Greensboro's growth and we are going to make our store the most complete music store to be found in any city.

As soon as we can make room, we are going to put in a complete line of sheet music and small musical merchandise;
in fact, we are going to carry everything from a "Jews Harp" to a piano.

This has been a growing demand on us for some time and we feel that Greensboro should have such a store.
We propose to carry everything in stock to assist the music teachers and the musical people in general.

Now to begin with, we are going to clean house by offering our entire stock of fine pianos and organs at prices that will insure quick removal.

This must be done first, as the front of our store is going to be torn away at once and changed in many ways to make room for the department.

We have a very large stock of pianos and organs and right on top of all this, here comes a solid car of fine sample pianos, which will pack our warehouses full on every floor.

We secured these pianos from the factory exhibit at Reidsville, and they must be sold.

These are all the highest grade pianos,
right from the factory and were on exhibition for a short time at Reidsville, and having secured them at a considerable reduction, we are in position to give each buyer the benefit of the lowest prices ever known on high class pianos.

We decided the best way to clean house is to offer this stock of fine pianos at prices and terms that will insure their quick removal to the homes of customers.

FUN IN THE HOME.

Make Life There Joyous and Bar Out
Business Worries.

Whatever your lot in life, keep joy with you, says Orison Swett Marden in Success Magazine. It is a great healer. Sorrow, worry, jealousy, envy, bad temper, create friction and grind away the delicate human machinery
so that the brain loses its cunning.

Half the misery in the world would be avoided if the people would make a business of having plenty of fun at home instead of running everywhere else in search of it.

"Now For Rest and Fun." "No Business Troubles Allowed Here."
These are good home building mottoes.

When you have had a perplexing day, when things have gone wrong with you and you go home at night exhausted, discouraged, blue, instead of making your home miserable by going over your troubles and trials just bury them. Instead of dragging them home and making yourself and your family unhappy with them and spilling the whole evening, just lock everything that is disagreeable in your office.

Just resolve that your home shall be a place for bright pictures and pleasant memories, kindly feelings toward everybody and "a corking good time" generally. If you do this you will be surprised to see how your vacation or business wrinkles will be ironed out in the morning and how the crooked things will be straightened.

Hints to Swimmers.

An expert swimmer is authority for the assertion that a vast majority of the drowning casualties which are attributed to cramps are in all probability the result of cardiac exhaustion. Nearly all experienced swimmers, he says, know that cramps when in the water are of comparatively infrequent occurrence. It is commonly in the calf of the leg, and the swimmer by lying quietly upon his back without undue alarm and stretching out the leg may overcome this somewhat painful involuntary muscular contraction. The exertion of swimming, however, is fully equal to the exertion of running, with the additional tax upon the system of a gradual lowering of the bodily temperature. It is one thing to know how to swim and quite another to be in a physical condition to do the swimming.

The Most Important Thing.
Commander Peary, at one of the numerous Washington dinners following his triumphant return from the pole, got the better of a senator in a war of wits.

"What is the good of your discovery?" the senator said. "I'll wager that you didn't find a single important thing at the north pole."

"Oh, yes, I did," said the explorer.
"I found one very, very important thing."

"Humph! What was that?" the senator grunted.

"The way back home again," was the reply.

Hate All Around.

The famous English chief justice Holt and his wife hated each other to the limit, and when she fell dangerously ill he was so delighted that he became disgracefully tipsy. But his wife was equal to the emergency and sent for the great Dr. Radcliffe, who hated Holt, and therefore out of spite when the case was presented to him came with great promptness and saved her life.—Westminster Gazette.

Old Enough to Notice.

"Are your papa and mamma at home?" asked the caller.
"No," replied little Marguerite. "One of them may be here, but they never are both at home at the same time."

Told Him.

"What's that boy yelling at?" asked the farmer of his son.
"Why," chuckled the boy, "he's just yelling at the top of his voice."

Fresh Air in Winter

In winter, it is hard to get fresh air in certain rooms. Some rooms in a house are usually colder than others, and if you open the windows it is hard again to heat the room properly.
If you keep the windows closed you don't get fresh air; if you keep them open you cannot quickly reheat the room. The

PERFECTION
SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless solves the difficulty. You can leave the windows in a room open all day in winter, and when you close them
apply a match to a Perfection Oil Heater and heat the room to any temperature you desire in a few minutes.

The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in Japan or nickel. It burns for nine hours. It has a cool handle and a damper top. It has an automatic locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so that the wick can be quickly cleaned. An indicator always shows amount of oil in the font.

The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down. It is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is strong, durable, well made, built for service, yet light and ornamental.

BEE'S LAXATIVE COUGH SYRUP
RELIEVES COUGHS AND COLDS

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs—

TIZ Cured Her Quick.

If you have sore feet, tired feet, aching feet, lame feet, tender feet, swollen feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Illinois.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Greensboro Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Greensboro readers.

J. J. Foster, Mendenhall St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for a long time. I had severe pains through the small of my back and was caused annoyance by irregular passage of the kidney secretions. I also noticed that the kidney secretions contained sediment, and were unnatural. While I was suffering from a severe attack of that kind, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and their use gave me permanent relief. It is with pleasure that I express my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ROAR OF BIG GUNS.

The Effect Upon the Nerves and the Sense of Hearing.

One of the penalties attendant on firing of big guns is deafness. So sure is this penalty to be exacted that, it is asserted, no man can go through a long series of gunnery practice without having his hearing affected. A stranger on deck who hears a big gun speak for the first time will not soon forget the stunning report.

One gun is enough to startle a stranger, but the shattering effect of the whole armament when in action together can hardly be conceived. The strain upon nerves and senses when the rending concussion takes place is terrible.

There is not a great difference between the effect of the big guns and that of the smaller pieces, strange as it may seem. If the visitor places himself beside one of the smaller guns and then listens to the roar of the big one, the sound will not appear much louder than that of the gun by his side. The extra distance to the muzzle of the big piece discounts the sound. The only apparent difference between the two will be that the smaller piece has a sharper, higher pitched tone, and that the big guns speak with a more bellowing roar.

If one watches the firing of the gun the crash has not such a startling effect as when it comes unexpectedly. Loud as it is, nature has prepared the watcher to resist the shock which he knows is impending.—Exchange.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. Gillespie, 326 Ingles Ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using only one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Wigwag—"What is your idea of the milk of human kindness?" Guzzler—"The kind that goes into milk punches." Blobs—"The taste in popular music seems constantly changing." Slobbs—"Except with young girls. There the favorite air is always the millionaire."

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howard Gardner.

As a man of the world Atlas must have been the original hold-up man.

EMBROIDERY FAD GROWS

Society Girls Follow Example of President's Daughter.

Wash. Cor. New York American.

Because Miss Helen Taft embroiders her own collars, and says so with much pride, all the girls in her set are also making dainty dress accessories. Miss Alice Boutell, daughter of Representative Boutell, of Illinois, wears a dainty shirtwaist of blue chiffon embroidered with orchids by her own hand. Miss Gladys Hinkley embroiders her own slippers. She has designed a pair for each of her new gowns. Bonna Beatrice Cousani, the debutante daughter of the Italian Ambassador, wears an exquisite gown of white satin, the lace at the neck and throat being her own handiwork.

Miss Martha Harrison, the granddaughter of ex-President Harrison, has also started a fad among the Washington younger set. It is the fashioning of her own jewelry. Miss Harrison while in Egypt procured a very rare stone and, having been a student at the Arts and Crafts School for several winters, she determined to set it herself. This ring is unique and distinctive. Since that time she has fashioned herself an exquisite bandeau of coral and turquoise, and has several good-looking pins which are her own make. Miss Harrison has also made a belt buckle to match each one of her tailored suits and has also an exquisite muff chain of amethyst.

Miss Ruth Pilling, not to be out done by the other girls, has embroidered an exquisite evening gown of pale pink. The design of the embroidery is bunches of pale pink moss rose-buds and forget-me-nots.

Ends Winter's Troubles.

To many, winter is a season of trouble. The frost bitten toes and fingers, chapped hands and lips, chilblains, cold sores, red and rough skins, prove this. But such troubles fly before Bucklen's Arnica Salve. A trial convinces. Greatest healer of Burns, Boils, Cuts, Sores, Eczema and Sprains. Only 25c. at Farise-Klutz Drug Co.

Misunderstood.

Get the Genuine Always.

A substitute is a dangerous make shift especially in medicine. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds quickly and is in a yellow package. Accept no substitutes. Howard Gardner.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up-stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alternative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sure remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Craddock Shoes

Make Short Miles

It's uphill work getting satisfaction out of some shoes. They may look real nice and prove to be all looks. They may wear well only to look like sixty very shortly, and more than often they are built of such tough, stiff leather that they punish the feet excruciatingly.

The CRADDOCK SHOE

$3.50 All Leathers $4.00

is a good shoe for any man, for any purpose. It is built of the right stuff in the right way. It costs little enough at the start and that little proves a good investment in long wear, snappy style and just the kind of comfort your feet are entitled to. You'll go farther and fare worse, many many times, before you'll find the equal of the Craddock Shoes even at $5.00 and $6.00.

There's a Craddock Shoe dealer in your town.

WENT AFTER TRUNK; TOOK A WATCH ALSO

On Return To Greensboro Leonard Wall, Colored, Is Nabbed by Chief Neelley—In Jail Charged With Larceny.

When Leonard Wall, a negro boy about eighteen years of age, went to Sedalia yesterday morning in a carriage to bring Mr. Wash Heath and his trunk to Greensboro he had no idea of turning into a thief, nor of being carried direct to the county jail on his return. However, he learned by experience that it is easy to yield to temptation and that the way of the transgressor is hard.

Wall was sent out yesterday morning by Messrs. Coble & Starr as stated above, Mr. Heath being at the home of Mr. J. R. Wall, at Sedalia. He went into Mr. Wall's house to get the trunk and in passing through a room spied a handsome gold watch lying handy. An ideal opportunity to commit a theft was quickly grasped by the negro and he hurried his passenger to the carriage and set out for town.

Meanwhile Mr. Wall had discovered the loss of his watch and at once concluded that the negro driver had stolen it. The telephone line put him in direct communication with Chief of Police Neelley and the circumstances were stated. Chief Neelley from the description of the rig drew the conclusion that it came from the stable of Coble & Starr and he at once phoned that firm. He was informed that the negro had just returned and was unharnessing the horse. Asking that the negro be detained for a few minutes he made a bee line for the stables.

Chief Neelley found the negro shaking with fear, but he stoutly denied knowing what the officer came after. He was then asked about the watch and replied that he did not have Mr. Wall's watch. He was told to hand over the watch he did have and from his vest pocket he produced the timepiece, a valuable watch worth at least $30. He then admitted that this was the first time he ever stole anything in his life and said he really did not know why he stole the watch; that the temptation came when he saw it lying so convenient.

He was carried to the county jail and locked up to await a hearing before Justice of the Peace D. H. Collins this afternoon.

IT IS ALL RIGHT

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.

Well-To-Do-People.

Perhaps you know some persons who are well-to-do. They have a little extra money in the bank and are never embarrassed by a failure in crops or other financial disaster. They are a little ahead in money matters and can live with a certain assurance that an unexpected loss will not force them to go into debt or suffer some privation. But, remember that these well-to-do people began saving small amounts,
